Comparing Radicals

A radical is used to express a root in math. A radical is actually a sign ( $\int$ ). The number that appears under the sign is a radicand.

Find the square root by finding the number, when squared will equal the radical.

Use a number line to compare

Meets: Common Core Standard Precursor to Eighth Grade 8.NS.A.2